We would like to offer holiday accommodation at our beach hut at Mudeford
sand spit near Christchurch Dorset.

We would like to offer holidays for some rest and recuperation to bereaved families, injured service men, serving and veteran and their families and /or partners, those with the day to day stresses of coping with military life and their experiences.

It will be a self-catering holiday. We have very close access to the toilet block and there are showers on the beach for all hut users to use during their stay. There is a cafe/restaurant and little shop based on the beach and also a pub on Mudeford Quay that you can take a short ferry ride over to from the sandspit. The hut has a fully equipped kitchen and all utensils and there will be bedding provided. We also have games and children's toys including wet suits for any water activities you or your family may like to take part in.

The hut sleeps 3-5 people with beds in the upstairs of the hut ideal for children. The downstairs has a sofa that turns into a double bed and there is also seating area which you can use as a single bed to sleep on. We have a BBQ you can use at the hut and there is gas for your cooking facilities. We have solar panels on the hut so lights are available and also lanterns for late nights.

If you would like to book accommodation with us we are offering free holidays in memory of Adam. However, if you would like to make a small donation on our Just Giving Page, after your stay, which will help with the financial costs of running the hut please feel free!
